Box No.	III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability
The ques	stions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non obvious), or to be industrially le have not been examined in respect of:
	the entire international application claims Nos.
becau	ise:
	the said international application, or the said claims Nos. relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):
	the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos.
	are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):
	the claims, or said claims Nos are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):
\boxtimes	no international search report has been established for said claims Nos. 22-26, 29-32
	a meaningful opinion could not be formed without the sequence listing; the applicant did not, within the prescribed time furnish a sequence listing on paper complying with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions, and such listing was not available to the International Preliminary Examining Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.
	furnish a sequence listing in electronic form complying with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions, and such listing was not available to the International Preliminary Examining Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.
	pay the required late furnishing fee for the furnishing of a sequence listing in response to an invitation under Rules 13ter.1(a) or (b) and 13ter.2.
	a meaningful opinion could not be formed without the tables related to the sequence listings; the applicant did not, within the prescribed time limit, furnish such tables in electronic form complying with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions, and such tables were not available to the International Preliminary Examining Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.
	the tables related to the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing, if in electronic form only, do not comply with the technical requirements provided for in the Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions.
	See Supplemental Box for further details.

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

The claimed invention relates to a method for adding a new object (in an electrical power network) in a first system and then also adding it, as well as establishing necessary links, to other relevant systems.

Documents cited in the International Search Report:

D1: US 6636875 B1 D2: WO 0246873 A2 D3: US 6636873 B1 D4: WO 9735265 A1

D1 discloses a system for synchronizing related data elements in disparate storage systems. The system is adapted to receive new data elements in one system, to add the relevant parts of the data elements to other systems and to establish the necessary links (column 10, lines 25-63).

D2-D4 are other prior art methods for replicating data.

The invention according to new (filed 2006-05-15) independent claims 1, 15, 16 and 17 relates to existing systems in power networks, while D1 relates to another technical field. However, the invention per se is directed towards a more general problem, namely to add data in one system and to replicate into related systems as well as updating links between the systems. It is obvious for a person skilled in the art to apply the technique disclosed by D1 on any set of related data systems. Further, the independent claims contain a listing of administrative actions for handling data.

Continuation of: Box V

However, there are not any technical features defined, which contributes to the solution of any technical problem. Consequently, the invention according to new independent claims 1, 15, 16 and 17 is not considered to involve an inventive step.

The remaining claims add a listing of known power network systems, data communication standards and actions obvious for a person skilled in the art, as well as a number of non-technical features. These additions do not lead to any surprising solution of any technical problem. Thus, the invention according to claims 2-14, 18-21 and 27-28 is not considered to involve an inventive step.

The invention according to new claims (filed 2006-05-15) 1-21 and 27-28 is not considered to involve an inventive step.
